WHITE NOW

by Catherine Lowe

I know, I know. Whites for Spring and Summer? “Groundbreaking,” in my best Miranda Priestly impression. But white is always fresh and just as classic and chic as black. White can be a canvas for texture—if you’re going for a monochromatic feel—or politely calls for a pop of color, because white doesn’t yell. Just like silence, white doesn’t need a loud voice to make a big statement.

We gathered the best of the achromatic color to incorporate into your home, office, closet and even your skin.
