I Break Out Easily

→ Haunted by pimples? Same. The first step is to ease off the harsh stuff. Try a cleansing balm, which doesn't strip your skin, and then a super-lightweight moisturizer that won't bombard your skin with extra gunk. When you Spidey-sense an imminent breakout, zap the area with a light treatment. It kills the bad stuff without turning your whole damn face red.

1. Perricone MD Lightweight Moisturizer, $55

2. Royal Fern Phytoactive Cleansing Balm, $85

3. Neutrogena Acne Spot Treatment, $20

I'm Constantly Sweaty

→ What red-blooded male hasn't at one point sweated so profusely in a meeting he considered Botox of the armpit? Short of that—which we don't recommend—the key is to keep your pores clear from the sweat that attracts dirt. Use a scrub. Then renew with the stuff that won't make you break into another sweat, like a toner and a light gel moisturizer.
